Does Village Pay Too Much For Engineer?

by CHARLES JOINSTON

At its regular meeting of June 16, the Antioch Village Board found itself in the awkward position of having to pass on a $5,576.40 engineering bill to the developers of Antioch Manor North. The awkwardness was due to the fact that village officials had originally estimated the cost at $2,500.

That example serves to illustrate a larger potential problem that the board discussed later in the meeting. According to a survey of other villages conducted by Village Clerk, Marilyn Sterbenz, Antioch is paying more than the going rate for professional engineering services to McClure Engineering Associates, Inc. of Waukegan. Other municipalities included in the survey were Fox Lake, Gurnee, Crystal Lake, Lindenhurst, and Grayslake. Based on the information received from these communities, Antioch is paying more than any of them for engineering.

The board did not take any action, but will take the matter up in greater detail at future meetings.

Antioch is not the first municipality to discover that McClure charges premium rates for its services. Several months ago, the Village of Lake Villa, which also uses McClure, conducted a similar survey. Lake Villa was paying a basic rate of $60 per hour plus expenses, which officials found was more than most other villages were paying.

That survey led to a renegotiation of the contract between Lake Villa and McClure. The village now pays a flat $100 to the engineering firm for attendance at meetings.

The contract between the Village of Antioch and McClure is more complex than that with Lake Villa. Antioch has an hourly rate schedule that varies depending on the type of service needed in addition to the charge for engineering services on development projects.

Village atty., Ken Clark, said that there were several factors that would have to be studied before going back to McClure for renegotiation. "Different companies charge for hours in different ways," Clark said, "what one company will charge an hour and a half for, another might just charge an hour, so that is a consideration."

The board will consider the matter further at its meeting on July 7.

In other action, the board:

- Approved re-zoning the Jack Ester property from R-4 to M-1 (light manufacturing). Board members noted that this property is bordered on three sides by property that is already zoned M-1.
- Ended the initial six-month new employee probation period for public works employee, Ronald Horton, and hired him as a permanent, full-time employee.
- Passed a resolution requiring monthly evaluations of all permanent, full-time village employees.
- Authorized sending a letter to all businesses and the high school at the intersection of Rte. 173 and Main St. requesting financial participation in putting in pedestrian crosswalks at the intersection. Officials agreed that the crosswalks will be needed before school begins due to the opening of the new Hardee's Restaurant.

Promote Parthun

Wayne Parthun, formerly a captain with the Antioch Fire Dept., has been promoted to assistant chief of the department.

Parthun has long been in charge of investigations with the fire department. Before his promotion, he had been mentioned by several sources as a possible candidate to take over as chief of the Round Lake Fire Dept.

Award-Winning Display

Exchange Club Slates First Annual Festival

The Exchange Club of Antioch will hold its first annual Exchange Festival on Saturday, June 21, at St. Peter's Social Center.

The evening's events will begin with dinner at 6:30 p.m., which will be followed at 8 p.m. with a one-hour auction. Among the items to be auctioned off are brass furniture, a new set of golf clubs, weed-eaters, and a certificate for a trip for four to Door County, Wis.

The festive part of the festival will be the variety of entertainment scheduled throughout the evening: five local bands will provide continuous entertainment.

"The great thing about this is that, for $10, you can get dinner, enjoy an auction, and have a full night of entertainment and dancing while supporting a worthy cause," said Exchange Club member, Walter Sobczak.

Proceeds from this event will go to help the club put together a Freedom Shrine, a display of 28 replicas of historical documents that highlight particularly notable chapters in the common American heritage.

The Exchange Club actively supports programs designed to prevent child abuse. Members also recognize the achievements of young people through their Youth of the Month and Youth of the Year programs.

Tickets for the festival are $10 each. They are available at any Antioch financial institution, at Realty World-Tiffany, from individual Exchange Club members, or at the door.

Arson Is Found To Be Cause Of Rural Fire

A fire department investigation has determined that an early morning residence fire at 26145 Spring Grove Rd. in rural Lake County was due to arson. The single-story home was situated behind Patty's Lounge off Rte. 173 between Antioch and Fox Lake.

Wayne Parthun, assistant chief of the Antioch Fire Dept. said that the house was destroyed by fire on May 29. Neighbors said that they heard a muffled explosion at approximately 1:30 a.m. and that at 2:30 a.m. the house was engulfed in flames.

The subsequent investigation revealed that the fire started on the kitchen floor, where traces of a flammable liquid were found. The house had been vacant for several years, but work was being done on it less than a week before the fire that destroyed it occurred.

The house was owned by George Anderson of Chicago. Another house owned by Anderson in a neighboring lot was destroyed by arson six years ago, according to Parthun.

Detective John Sherin of the Lake County Sheriff's Police is heading the criminal investigation of the fire.

Plan Coronation Day Celebration At Andre's

No one can say that Ernie Andre doesn't know how to throw a party.

On Sunday, June 22, Andre will throw one of the biggest, brassiest festivals the Chain O'Lakes has ever seen to celebrate the coronation of the Island Queen, the Chain O'Lakes new tour boat.

But the tour boat is just one facet of a multi-million dollar project to make Andre's On The Bay in Fox Lake one of the finest tourist resorts and restaurants in northern Illinois.

The celebration will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the corner of Rte. 12 and Grand. A coronation parade, which will include the high school band, clowns, antique cars and boats, floats, and a navy band, will march out to Andre's

On The Bay where the real party will begin.

Dignitaries and honored guests will crown the queen and then 10 hours of continuous entertainment will begin. Some of the entertainment will include a magician, Shirley Smith & Millie Simon, and the Peptones.

One of the highlights of the day will be the appearance of Fireball 8, a traveling band that plays the old, jumping, mountain music from the back of an antique fire truck.

In a show that is particularly appropriate to the day's events, Captain Al's Land O'Lakes Traveling Show will feature a musical revue from "Show Boat."

Tickets for the festival are $4 each and go to cover the entertainment for the day. For information or to reserve tickets, call (312) 587-2222.

Charge Burke For False Alarm, Harassing Witness

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Former Antioch mayoral candidate, Philip M. Burke, was arrested in Chicago on June 12 on charges of harassing a witness and disorderly conduct. The complaint was filed by the Antioch Police Dept. and Burke was picked up by the Chicago Police following a Crimestoppers tip as to his whereabouts.

Burke was out on bond awaiting a July 2 sentencing date for five counts of deceptive practices after his conviction in May on the charges. He had written checks with insufficient funds in 1985 and skipped town.

According to Lt. Thomas Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept., Burke had repeatedly called and bothered a witness from that trial. The disorderly conduct charge stems from an incident on June 6 in which a false alarm was called in to the fire department. All calls are taped and police identified the voice of the caller as being that of Burke.

Burke is being held in the Lake County jail on $20,000 bond.

Set Hearing For July 7

The Antioch Village Board has set Monday, July 7, as the date for a public hearing on the appropriations ordinance and the general assistance fund. The hearing will start at 6:30 p.m., an hour before the regular board meeting.

25 Agencies Meet To Plan Strategies

Representatives of 25 local agencies met to plan strategies to improve services to families of handicapped and at-risk children. This meeting is part of the state-wide effort to identify needs of young special needs children and their families, coordinate existing services, develop new services where service gaps exist, and develop a state-wide plan for providing these services throughout the state.

The Lake-McHenry Regional Program's Parent-Infant Center was one of nine projects funded by the Illinois State Board of Education in Illinois to investigate the effectiveness of early intervention services and to develop community involvement to provide input into the state plan.

Jonah Deppe, coordinator of the Handicapped Early Childhood State Plan from Springfield, attended the meeting and said, "I am very pleased to see so many agencies in Lake County cooperating to help families with young children. We hope we can get the same response throughout the state so that when the state plan is implemented, it will truly reflect the needs of Illinois."

In attendance at the meeting were representatives of the AB/C Council, Bradley Counseling Center, Catholic Charities, Countryside Association, Division of Children & Family Services, Division of Services for Crippled Children, Evanston Hospital, Family Care Services, Family Support Services of the Round Lake Area, Glenkirk School, Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Headstart of Lake County, Illinois Division of Rehabilitation Services, Illinois State Board of Education, Lake County Board, Lake County Health Department, Lake-McHenry Regional Program Parent/Infant Center, Northeastern Illinois University, Project Connect, parents, a pediatric ophthalmologist, South Metropolitan Association, and the United Way of Lake County.

Women Gaining Ground In World Of Politics

BY JOHN STEINKE

We know that Lake County has a propensity to elect women to office. Guess what happened in conservative Nebraska this year? We don't know whether Nebraska's next governor will be a Republican or a Democrat, but one thing's for sure: It will be a woman. The state made history in the 1986 primaries. For the first time in United States politics, both major political parties nominated women to head their statewide tickets.

The Republicans picked State Treasurer

Kay Orr from an eight-candidate field for the gubernatorial nomination in the May primary. In the Democratic contest, Helen Boosalis, former mayor of Lincoln, easily outdistanced six other candidates. Yet women have a long way to go for political equality, especially in federal and statewide offices. Today only two out of 100 U.S. Senators are women. Of the 435 members of U.S. House of Representatives, only 23 are women. At the state level, only two out of 50 governors are women.

The highest women officeholders in the country include Martha Layne Collins, the governor of Kentucky and Madeleine M. Kunin, the governor of Vermont. Both are Democrats. The two female U.S. Senators are Nancy Landon Kassebaum of Kansas and Paula Hawkins of Florida. Both are Republicans. In 1978, Kassebaum became the first woman elected to the U.S. Senate in her own right. Until Kassebaum's election, a woman senator had been appointed or elected to succeed her husband. Mrs. Kassebaum is the daughter of Alfred M. Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential candidate.

To date, seven women have served as governors. All of them were Democrats. They included:

1. Miriam (Ma) Ferguson succeeded her husband James, as governor of Texas, winning elections in 1924 and 1932.

2. Nellie Ross became Wyoming governor in a 1924 special election after the death of her husband, William.

3. Lurleen Wallace, the wife of Alabama

Steinke On Politics

Governor George Wallace, was elected in 1966, when her husband was barred from seeking another term. She died of cancer in office in 1968.

4. Ellis Grasso of Connecticut generally was regarded as the first woman elected as governor in her own right. She won elections in 1974 and 1978. She died of cancer in office in 1981.

5. Dixy Lee Ray was elected governor in Washington in 1976. She served one term.

6. Martha Layne Collins of Kentucky defeated former major league baseball pitcher, Jim Bunning, in 1983. She is still in office.

7. Madeleine Kunin of Vermont defeated Republican John Easton in 1984. She remains in office.

List Symphony Agenda

The Lake Forest Symphony announced that seven distinguished conductors and a brilliant roster of guest artists will appear during the orchestra's 1986/87 concert season.

The season opens on Oct. 10 and 12 under the direction of guest conductor Joseph Giunta. Giunta has led many major orchestras, including those of Chicago, Phoenix and Minnesota, and returns for his second season with the Lake Forest Symphony.

Appearing as soloists will be the piano duo of Joseph and Anthony Paratore. The Paratore brothers have been hailed by audiences from Orchestra Hall to the "Tonight Show" for the virtuosity and poetic unity of their playing.

The Nov. 7 concert highlights the work of two women who are rapidly rising stars of this country's musical scene. The orchestra will be led by JoAnn Falletta, highly praised associate conductor of the Milwaukee Symphony and music director of the Queens Philharmonic and Denver Chamber Orchestra.

Guest soloist Marvis Martin has brought her radiant soprano voice and stunning stage presence to performances with virtually every major orchestra in the United States and to regular appearances in major roles with the Metropolitan Opera.

Lyric Opera's Richard Boldrey, one of the Chicago area's most respected musicians, will direct the orchestra in two performances of the annual Christmas concert on Dec. 21. The shorter matinee is especially designed for the family and includes selections from the evening performance.

Guest conductor for the program presented on Feb. 6 and 8 will be Russian-born Victor Yampolsky, professor of music and conductor of orchestras at Northwestern University.

The renowned Greek pianist Janis Vakarelis makes one of his rare U.S. appearances at these concerts. Vakarelis, best known here for his solo recordings on RCA, has performed throughout Europe, the United Kingdom and the Far East, and recently made his London debut under the baton of Vladimir Ashkenazy.

Victor Aitay, appointed music director Emeritus for the 1986/87 season, conducts the March 8 program. The soloist for the concert will be Corey Cerovsek, the brilliant 14-year-old violinist who made his Chicago-area debut with the Lake Forest Symphony last season.

A pops program, "The Sounds of Sondheim," will be directed on April 11 by Academy-Award-winning Jonathan Tunick, whose orchestrations of Stephen Sondheim's musicals and the Broadway hit "A Chorus Line" have brought him national distinction; he will soon release a recording of "South Pacific" with Kiri Te Kanawa, Jose Carreras and Sarah Vaughan.

Square Dance

The Bouys and Belles Square Dance Club will hold a Strawberry Stroll Square Dance on Friday, June 20, with a round workshop from 8 to 8:30 p.m. and the dance from 8:30 to 11 p.m. Bob Wilson will call the square dance, and Al Hallgren the round dance. The dance will be held in the Great Lakes Community Center, Great Lakes, Greenbay Rd. and Hwy. 137 (Buckley Rd.). All modern western square dancers are invited and refreshments will be served.

The 1986/87 season closes with the return of guest conductor Paul Anthony McRae for his second season with the Lake Forest Symphony. McRae, nationally acclaimed resident conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra of Florida, has conducted extensively in Europe and will soon release a compact disc recording with the English Chamber Orchestra.

Guest artist for these concerts May 15 and 17 will be violist Paul Neubauer, the youngest musician ever to hold a principal chair with the New York Philharmonic.

Of the coming season, Lake Forest Symphony Assn. Chairman Ellen Reid Eastman said: "We will be celebrating this, our 30th year, with outstanding guest musicians and a varied programming that promise to produce our most rewarding season ever. Three subscription series will be offered: two four-concert series and a new three-concert introductory series which includes a classical concert, pops program and the first subscription performance of the Lake Forest Symphony Chamber Orchestra."

'Promises, Promises' Smooth Production

by ANN MURRY

The Pullman Players' latest production, "Promises, Promises," under the direction of Pat Weiss, flows with a professional smoothness.

Chuck Gessert in the lead role of Chuck Baxter does a credible job when he maintains boyish exuberance, which comes through in his finest moment, "She Likes Basketball."

Mary Gauthier as Fran, is perfect in the part and is not only lovely to look at, but has a voice which touches heartstrings in her delivery of "Whoever You Are I Love You."

Rick Mohr gives a convincing performance as J.D. Sheldrake, a man caught in a trap of his own making. His powerful rendition of "Wanting Things" is one of the highlights of the show. Stacie Ellis is a real scene stealer in her caustic role of Miss Olsen, the secretary who has seen it all.

C.R. Gessert handles his role as Dr. Dreyfuss with the skills of an old vaudevillian. But the highlight of the show is an outstanding comedian, Marilyn Zalesin, who sparks every scene she is in and the four executives: Jerry Taylor, Ken Rivers, Bernie Plemel and Rick Wodek who bring down the house with their hilarious cavorting throughout "Where Can You Take A Girl."

Connie Ellis' perky costumes give just the right flavor needed for this snappy show. The band excels under Patrice Wessel, providing a fine musical background.

An unusual touch is the six orchestra girls whose voices blend beautifully to add a little magic to an already fine show. "Promises, Promises" will be presented again this weekend, Friday, June 20 and Saturday, June 21, at the Island Lake Complex.

Charter Boat Service Is Growing On The Chain

by CHARLES JOHNSTON

Don and Kathleen Wehrheim, successful owners and operators of a chain of service stations for 35 years, first felt the seductive power of the sea in the early 70's, when they started boating in the Chain O'Lakes.

Last year, they began a charter-boat service on the Chain that has been so successful that it will soon be their shared career.

According to Don, the reason for their success is because they cater to the customer. "My wife calls us the limousine service of the lake," he laughed. "Whatever the customer wants, we can deliver. We have taken out fishing expeditions, we do tours, and a lot of people just like to visit restaurants on the lake."

For the first year, the Wehrheims worked with a 33-ft. cruiser that accommodates six people. Before the summer is over, they will add a 40-ft.

houseboat that will serve up to 25 people.

Of the five service stations that they owned in the Rolling Meadows area, only one remains. It, like the rest, will soon be sold. When that happens, the Wehrheims will devote themselves solely to providing charter services on the Chain O'Lakes.

Don is looking forward to the launching of the Island Queen. "It will bring more tourists out here," he said, "and once they get a taste of what the Chain has to offer, I think many of them will want to use our service. We take the customers where they want to go, so it is a different type of cruise than what the Island Queen will offer."

The Wehrheims are looking forward to their first on-board marriage ceremony. "We have a couple that will be going out on June 21," Don said. "When they arrive back on shore, they will be married. They wanted to do something memorable and different. I think that we will have a few more of these."

Charter rates for the cruiser are $60 for one hour, $100 for two, $140 for three, $180 for four, and go up by $30 for each additional hour after that. For further information, call Chain O'Lakes Charters at (312) 587-0040.

Support Group

The Lake County Health Dept. Division of Mental Health offers an evening weekly support group for parents and family members of mentally ill individuals. This service is offered free of charge to Lake County residents through the Coordinated Area Treatment Services (CATS) Program at 1115 27th St., Zion 60099. Arrangements for attending the group can be made by calling (312) 872-4245 Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fair Needs Performers

Area entertainers are invited to perform on the WKRS Centerstage during the Lake County Fair, July 23 through 27. The Centerstage will be located near the entrance to building seven.

Larry Leafblad, general sales manager of WKRS, who is coordinating the use of the WKRS Centerstage, says he is particularly interested in singers, dancers, bands, including one-man and country bands and "unique novelty acts".

"Entertainers will have a potential audience in the thousands," said Leafblad. "We aren't offering money, but we are offering lots of exposure."

The Centerstage will be used for such fair events as the talent contest and the politicians' Hog-Calling Contest.

Interested individuals and groups are asked to schedule time through Leafblad at (312) 336-7900 during normal business hours.

Admission to the fairgrounds is $3 per day. Children 12 and under are admitted free. Senior citizens are admitted to the fair for $1.50 Wednesday through Friday. A season pass is available for $7.50 per person.

The fairgrounds is located at Rtes. 120 and 45, Grayslake. Visitors should enter from Center St. or Rte. 120. The Rte. 45 gate is for exhibitors only.

'Bosom Buddies' Opens At Apple Tree Restaurant

July 1, is opening day for "Bosom Buddies", another hilarious new musical by Sandra Smith.

This delightful comedy revolves around three zany ladies, Birdie, Bunny and Belle (Mary Plemel, Donna Kreisman and Sandra Smith) and their crusade to save the local park which is about to be destroyed to make way for the construction of a condominium.

If that happens, what will happen to the beautiful peacocks that make their home in the park? What will happen to the bunnies and the squirrels?

Of course Birdie, Bunny

and Belle each have their own idea of how to handle the mayor, Handsome Horace Hoffstetter. (A cameo appearance by John Weber) in whose hands lies the final decision on the fate of the park, the peacocks, the bunnies and the squirrels.

The fun shifts into high gear when the ladies are accosted by Birdie's hilariously funny maid, Chi Chi (Dana Smith) who has some show-stopping ideas of her own. (She doesn't do windows, she can't cope with lunch but she mixes a mean margarita and bakes world-class brownies!)

This fast-paced, fun-filled

musical will have anyone humming along with some wonderful songs, gasping over the gorgeous costumes and choking with laughter at the zany antics of these delightful ladies.

"Bosom Buddies" will have a limited engagement at Apple Tree Restaurant from July 1 through Nov. 15.

A gourmet lunch and this wonderful show can be enjoyed for $16.90 including tax and tip. Groups of 40 or more will receive complimentary tickets for bus driver and group leader.

For reservations or more information contact Sandy MacNeal or Doug Sheil at (312) 546-8222.

Orchestra To Perform In Fox Lake On June 22

For all who are Amadeus fans, the Chain O'Lakes Orchestra Annual Spring Concert, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on June 22 at Grant High School, is a must. Included on the program is "Piano Concerto No. 20" by Amadeus Wolfgang Mozart, performed with the orchestra by Barbara Crooks Enders. Enders is a graduate 'cum laude' of The American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. She has performed as a soloist in places such as Chicago, Boston and London, and is now a private instructor and accompanist in the Wauconda area.

Privateer To Come To Adler

Tom and Kris Kastle, known as "Privateer," will bring an evening of Great Lakes Maritime folk music to the David Adler Cultural Center for two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., on Saturday, June 21.

Hailing from "the Port of Chicago," "Privateer" draws songs of the seas from Celtic and American traditions as well. During the past seven years the duo has played at pubs and festivals throughout the U.S., Ireland, Scotland, and Norway.

Opening both shows will be Mike and Connie Purcell, playing a blend of original, instrumental and contemporary folk music on six- and 12-string guitars.

Admission is $4.50 for adults, $4 for members, $2 for senior citizens and children six-12 and free for children under six.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For information call (312) 367-0707.

Also included in the program is "Shepherd On the Rock" by Schubert. This is a beautiful, romantic ensemble for voice, violin, and piano. The violin, played by Georgia Ingram Cobb, founder and conductor of the Chain O'Lakes Orchestra and long time violinist, begins and ends the piece. The soprano part will be sung by Pamela Grace Jordan in a return performance with the symphony. Jordan has a bachelor of music degree in vocal performance, was a recipient of the Illinois Federation of Music scholarship to study at Inspiration Fine Arts Colony for young singers, and has performed in such roles as Pamina from "The Magic Flute", Frasquita from "Carmen", and Ruth from the biblical "Ruth".

The piano part will be performed by Barbara Crooks Enders.

Other program selections include "The Sting" by Joplin, Buckaroo Holiday from "Rodeo" by Copeland, and more.

The concert is free to the public and there will be a reception with the guest artists afterwards.

This program is presented by the Chain O'Lakes Cultural Arts Association and is partially funded by the Waukegan Area Arts Council. For more information call (312) 587-9171.

Hookers Night Out

It wasn't the fastest race of the evening, but the 'hooker's race,' pitting three tow trucks against each other was one of the funniest races at the Rotary Scholarship Race held at Wilmet Speedway. The winner of the race claimed to have no last name, preferring to simply be identified as 'Tork.'

Schedule Set For Summer

Summer school at Antioch Community High School will begin on Thursday, June 19, and continue through Friday, Aug. 1. Tuition for classes is $44 per semester course (half credit), $22 for quarter credit classes, and $55 for co-op courses (full credit). Students may enroll in a maximum of two semester courses during the summer.

Students must pay their tuition in full at the time of registration. All outstanding debts to the school must be paid before registration will be permitted.

The administration advises that students who are planning vacations while summer school is in session should not enroll.

Cutting The Ribbon

The skies were sunny and clear for the ribbon-cutting ceremony opening the RV, Boat, and Auto Show in Antioch last weekend. In spite of a wet, gloomy, grey Saturday, the show drew over 7,000 visitors. Attending the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were, from left: Wally Podlin, Ken Wermeling, Ron VanSoyoc, Randy Miles, Dick Paddock, Bob Pedersen, Pres Reckers, Bill White, Eric Whitten, Miss Antioch Janice Van Patten, Mayor Ray Toft, Vince Casella, Glenda Tomaschik, Ray Scarpelli, Jr., Shirley Gutowski, and Larry Hanson.

A Deer Follow

One of the visitors at the RV, Boat, and Auto Show seemed to have sprouted antlers on his motorcycle helmet. Funny hats seemed to be the opening day theme as double-brimmed baseball hats, a Mickey Mouse hat, and a hat sporting the back end of a horse were seen on various heads during the day.

Honor Grads

Twenty-seven students participated in graduation exercises at Emmons Grade School. Graduates included: Patric Raymond Beattie, II, Jennifer Jacqueline Crepps, Eric N. Dahl, Dennis J. Friedle, Jr., Carl A. Galdine, Thomas A. Gore, Jeffrey D. Hawk, and Melissa Heather Holway.

Also Hank Knackstedt, Jennifer Lynn Kuehle, Jeremy Richard Lee, Kimberly Joy Loranger, Michael D. Malson, Kelli Elizabeth Maltz, Dimitrios K. Maravelas, Elizabeth Anne Markiel, Matthew L. McPhee, and Holly Leigh Mushinski.

Also Beth Anne Nolte, R. Corby Plechaty, Jerry Christopher Portzen, Jeffrey J. Ring, Tim Rudolph, Gregory H. Teegen, Aaron Leslie VanPatten, Vickie Lou Wallace, and Douglas Alan Windahl.

Seek Beauty Contestants

Applications for the Miss Antioch contest are now available at the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. and may be picked up between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

In order to enter, a woman must be 16 before July 4 and must not be 22 before January 1, 1987. She must also have a 395 telephone pre-fix, have never been married, and have no children. Deadline for entries is June 25.

For further information, call Glenda Tomaschik at (312) 395-2160.

Rotary Scholarship Winners

Ending An Exciting Year

Janice Van Patten, Miss Antioch of 1985, is coming to the end of an exciting one-year reign. She will be on hand to help select the new Miss Antioch at the pageant scheduled for Thursday, July 3, at Williams Park. The Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. is still accepting applications from young ladies who are interested in participating in the pageant. With Van Patten is Antioch Mayor Ray Toft at her crowning ceremony last year.

CLC Offers Fitness

The College of Lake County has responded to growing popular interest in fitness by opening its physical education facility on the Grayslake campus to a number of community groups and individuals.

In a report to the college's board of trustees, health and physical education supervisor Frank Minnerly described community use of the CLC building and equipment. All these activities are in addition to traditional classes, intramural and competitive team use.

According to Minnerly, over 1,000 people have signed out fitness video tapes available through the physical education department for individuals use. Another nearly 80 people use the fitness center on a daily basis. Some recovering cardiac patients, referred by their doctors, use the indoor gym for daily walks, especially in cold weather when outdoor exertion could be dangerous to their health.

An open gym night on Fridays, beginning again in the fall, continues to be popular, with standard gym equipment available to the public at a 50 cents per person charge. A number of schools and groups use the college's physical education facilities including St. Gilbert School, Faith Baptist Church of Lake County, the Lake County Baseball Assn., Libertyville Colt Baseball, the Lake County Forest Preserve, and the Grayslake High School and park district.

Currently, fishermen and women are invited to obtain permits to fish in Willow Lake on the Grayslake campus.

For more information on community use of the college's physical education facility call (312) 223-6601, Ext. 483.

Pay Homage To CLC's John Hunter

Dr. John O. Hunter, president of the College of Lake County (CLC), was honored for eight years of dedicated public service by the Illinois House of Representatives. Hunter will leave CLC on Aug. 31 to become president of Alfred State College in New York.

The resolution, sponsored by all area state representatives, highlighted the curriculum and facilities improvements made at CLC under Hunter's leadership. It expressed appreciation to Hunter for his commitment to academic excellence, his efforts to expand courses at community-based campuses, high schools, and shopping centers, and his emphasis on career-training programs.

Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said Hunter made himself accessible to all in a cooperative way. "Dr. John O. Hunter has led the College of Lake County through a period of growth and expansion," Matijevich said, "and his leadership will always be an important part of CLC's history."

Self-Replicating Symbolism

What if, instead of sparking a revolution, the Boston Tea Party had simply inspired more Boston Tea Parties?

What if, instead of leading them to battle, the call of the bugle at Gettysburg had inspired Union soldiers to exchange their weapons for bugles?

What if, instead of translating public sentiment into sustained positive action, symbolic acts began, like viruses, to replicate themselves?

We think the answers to these questions are at the heart of the ambivalence with which many Americans view the recent "Hands Across America" extravaganza.

A one-day outpouring of public sentiment and cash may provide some temporary relief from the problems of hunger and poverty. Unless it inspires people to a greater level of commitment, though, the poor will again be hungry before participants have stopped feeling the afterglow of their generosity.

Ethiopia has demonstrated that Marxists will intentionally deny sustenance to people who are deemed political enemies of the state. In America, vast surpluses of commodities rot in warehouses while children in ghettos and rural backwaters go to bed hungry. How do we devise an economic system that will deny neither opportunity to the talented and enterprising nor sustenance to the poor? We can not answer that question, but we know that finding the answer requires a more profound obligation than holding a public relations event once every few months.

One organization that has fought long and hard in the battle against hunger and poverty is the Salvation Army. For over a hundred years, it has worked to relieve the suffering of the poor and the afflicted. And for every brass band one sees at Christmas, there are hundreds of volunteers who are seen only at the soup kitchens in which they toil. As with any effective army, it has more soldiers than buglers.

Our friends who participated in Hands Across America are right when they say that the problems of hunger and poverty need attention. We suspect, though, that one quiet Salvation Army volunteer is worth a thousand loud participants in a big, well-publicized event.

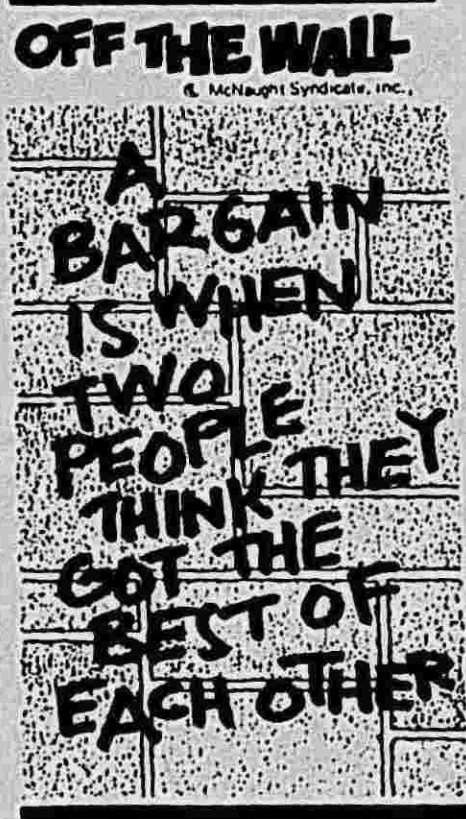

If all the soldiers insist on becoming buglers, who will be left to fight the gritty battles?

Lives Saved

Young Illinois lives are going to be saved now that Wisconsin has raised the minimum drinking age to 21 from 19.

After a bitter and protracted legislative struggle, the new age limit was established and signed into law by Gov. Anthony Earl. Curiously, the legislation includes a grandfather clause allowing people who are age 19 or 20 by Sept. 1, effective date of the law, to continue drinking alcohol in state taverns.

Raising the drinking age in Wisconsin will discourage the tens of thousands of underage Illinois residents from crossing the border to drink. Approximately 150 Illinois young people have been killed in drinking-related accidents in the six years since Illinois raised its drinking age from 19 to 21.

Art Of Sharing Enjoys Revival With Food Plan

by BILL SCHROEDER

Sharing, an almost forgotten experience in this age of selfishness and individualism, is enjoying a rebirth in a program built around distribution of inexpensive food that in reality is a network of people helping people.

Share Food—Self Help And Resource Exchange—is operated under the sponsorship locally of Catholic Charities. In Lake County there are six food depots and six centers where required community service for participants is coordinated.

The food part boils down to $40 worth of food made available once a month for $14. That's only part of the effort. The other aspect, and most significant, is the required four hours per month of service for purchasers.

"That's the beautiful part," exclaimed Kathleen Lennon, representative in the Round Lake Community Action Project (CAP) office.

"Our Share Food people perform all sorts of work and assistance. We're really going backwards in time when people helped each other at barn raisings, threshing bees and emergencies," Ms. Lennon explained.

It's like bringing chicken soup to a sick neighbor," remarked Tony Marsalla, who is an aide at a Share Food center at St. Joseph's Church, Round Lake.

Other centers in this locality include St. Patrick's, Wadsworth; Santa Maria del Popolo, Mundelein; Our Lady of Humility, Zion, Waukegan and North Chicago.

While a good portion of community service is performed in connection with food distribution and sales, individual commitments can range from chauffeuring carless families to volunteering at a senior citizens center or janitor work at a community building.

A Lake Forest resident, a millionaire many times over, works at the Share Food warehouse in Chicago which is managed by a retired Army Colonel who uses his military expertise to run operations with a spit and polish manner.

Avon Twp. Road Commissioner Pat Anderson contributes his personal time and effort, plus a township vehicle, to haul food bags, called units, from the Chicago warehouse to Round Lake for the last Saturday-of-the-month distributions.

Food units include canned goods, fresh fruit, fresh meat and other packaged goods. Orders must be submitted in advance.

"This is not a charity deal or a dole," emphasized Marsalla, who is involved regularly in social work. "It's sharing, pure and simple." According to Marsalla, Share Food began several years ago in California.

Anderson reported that when Lake County activity reaches 3,000 units per month, a satellite warehouse will be established to serve the six local outlets and anticipated new outlets. He said currently, 500 units are purchased monthly in this locality.

Share Food means bargains, volunteer work and a whole new outlook on life resulting from making new friends and helping other people. There are no gimmicks or hidden hooks—unless helping fellow human beings for fun is some kind of trick.

Letters To The Editor:

Contain Hospitals

Editor:

Lake County citizens concerned for their purses should immediately seek a way to assist our legislators in an all-out endeavor to prevent the building of an unneeded hospital here, the proposed Humana hospital adjacent to the Chicago Medical School in North Chicago.

There has already been an overage of hospital beds here for many years, and, with the recent advent of outpatient surgery and many successful short-stay treatments, several community not-for-profit hospitals have had to close areas or convert them to other uses.

A wider dispersal of funds for hospital facilities could only increase duplications of expensive equipment and thus raise per patient cost.

If Chicago Medical School planners erred in choosing a location where medical services were already more than adequate, we, the public, should not pay for their mistake.

For the rare need for highly specialized care and the latest and finest in treatment, we have readily available all the resources of one of the finest medical centers in the world, Chicago, with its several expertly staffed hospitals and the faculties, research developments, and services of three renowned medical schools, University of Illinois, University of Chicago, and Northwestern University. Milwaukee and Madison medical institutions are also within reach.

The Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board was established to objectively study proposals for new institutions and determine whether each was needed. It seems to me that heavily financed lobbying efforts of Humana, Inc., a for-profit developer and operator of hospitals, and the Chicago Medical School must have motivated the board to reverse its original denial of permission to build a superfluous hospital in Lake County. The same forces are now at work to pass legislation to prevent existing Lake County hospitals from appealing this IHFPB decision.

State Senators David Barkhausen, Adeline Geo-Karis, and Roger Keats have introduced a Senate Resolution calling for an investigation of the IHFPB's recent reversal. Lake County State Representatives are vigilantly watching for legislation to prevent an appeal, which may be presented as an amendment to some unrelated bill in these closing days of the session.

What can we do? At the least, we can assure our representatives of our support, and of our need to keep hospital costs down here. Every additional unneeded surgery or piece of equipment adds needless cost to each day in the hospital, and thus also to each insurance premium.

Insurance Woes

Editor:

Our small community of 77 homes, Mylith Park, is located in unincorporated Wauconda Twp., Lake County. For over 50 years our community has sustained itself through its fundraising efforts toward the upkeep and maintenance of our roads, park areas and lakefront, community house, utility bills and liability insurance.

The recent insurance crisis in our country has brought our longstanding liability insurance coverage to a sudden, unjustifiable and unqualified state of "non renewal." Considering our prompt payments of premium and minimal loss experience, we feel this arbitrary and unilateral dismissal of coverage to be most unfair and irresponsible.

As responsible citizens we feel it is our duty and obligation to insure our property, protect our community and safeguard the individuals who use these areas. We are enlisting your assistance in obtaining liability insurance at a feasible rate and hope you can provide us with a list of potential insurers. We are seeking your advice or direction in this endeavor and would be happy to meet with you to discuss this matter.

Our community will support any positive legislation to control these sky-rocketing insurance rates. People should and must be able to insure and protect themselves and their property at an affordable cost.

The Great Adventure Of Knowing Marsupials

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

Many people may ask: "What is a marsupial?" This is a type of animal that gives birth to babies that are not completely developed. These babies crawl into their mother's pouch to finish developing and grow bigger. The difference between the marsupial and the placental mammal is that the placental animal does not give birth until the young are fully developed.

More than 50 million years ago, the ancestors of all marsupials in Australia came to Australia, which was then cut off from other continents of the world. For this reason, Australian marsupials are not even distantly related to placental animals in the rest of the world.

Now you may think that there are only a few marsupials like the kangaroo, koala, and the common wombat. However, living in Australia and on nearby islands, there are more than 170 different species. This is a remarkably varied group, with many colors, sizes, and shapes. They live in different areas, ranging from deserts to forests.

There is a marsupial mouse, banded anteater, cuscus, marsupial mole, brush-tailed possum, kangaroos of all sizes and breeds, the common wombat, koala, and the Tasmanian wolf.

The Tasmanian wolf was my biggest surprise. Most people believe it to be extinct for one has not been seen for over thirty years. He was the largest of the meat-eating marsupials.

The marsupial mouse is a desert animal that eats insects and lives in a hole. This little animal sleeps by day to avoid the heat.

The wombat is a digger that lives underground. He eats grass and lives in the forest.

The banded anteater prefers to eat termites. His sharp claws help him to dig into the termite nest, and his long sticky tongue traps them by the hundreds.

The tiger cat is also a marsupial. He has sharp teeth and hunts small animals of the forest, mostly in the trees.

Most people know what the kangaroo looks like. He comes in all sizes and lives in many places.

Did you know that there is a tree kangaroo that climbs around in trees? He can jump 60 feet down to the ground and not get hurt. He is the Lumholtz' tree kangaroo.

Some kangaroos live like mountain goats. The ring-tailed rocky wallaby has no fear of heights and he jumps around on cliffs without falling. Even though he is years, but could live 20 years.

Kangaroos are plant eaters. They can live on less water than a camel. Kangaroos are powerful swimmers. Some have been seen swimming in the ocean. Sometimes they'll protect themselves from hunting dogs by swimming into deep water.

The front paws are used like hands to pick up food or groom themselves. The back feet can be 18 inches long. No other animal on earth can jump as far as a large kangaroo. He actually uses less energy as he moves faster. He has a unique ability to recycle energy. The large kangaroos can go 40 miles an hour. He can out-hop a running horse for a short distance.

The baby kangaroo spends six months in his mother's pouch without leaving it at all. For a few months after that, it gets back into the pouch if he needs rest or feels in danger. Long after he is too big for the pouch, the baby still gets milk by getting his head in the pouch.

Kangaroos can be found many places including the hot and cold climates and the dry and wet areas. They will eat foods no other animal can and they are very flexible. These are reasons why the kangaroos have been the most successful of all marsupials.

ON PEAK ALERT DAYS, IT PAYS TO USE LESS.

On Peak Alert days the extra-high demand for electricity tests our ability to provide all the power you need.

If we announce a Peak Alert, it means our thrifty coal and nuclear generators can't do the job alone. We have to use less efficient generators, too. And all of us pay that extra expense on our electric bills.

You can lower your energy bills this summer.

Every summer day, and especially when we've issued a Peak Alert, adopt some of these energy-saving, money-saving habits:

If you stay indoors:

- Set your air conditioner at 78° or higher.
- Keep your curtains closed so the sun's hot rays will stay outside.
- Wash your clothes and run your dishwasher on a cool day.
- Use all large appliances before 9 AM or after 10 PM.
- Open your refrigerator only when necessary.

Switch to outdoor activities:

- Head to the beach or find a refreshing pool.
- Dry your clothes outdoors.
- Cook on charcoal instead of the stove. Or don't cook at all—try a light sandwich or salads.

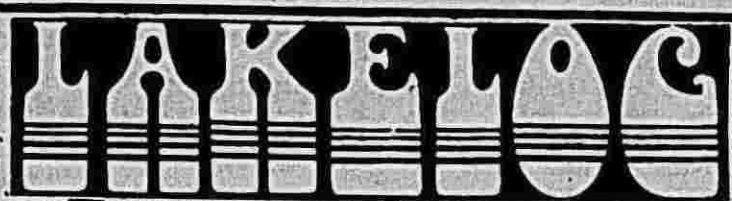

Ask for our free Waste Watcher's Guide:

It lists 101 things you can do to save energy every day. For your copy, write: Energy Information, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690. And in the meantime, remember that when there's a Peak Alert, it pays to use less.

Another Mountain Looms On Horizon

No sooner than the nation's home buyers hurdled the obstacle of budget limits on Uncle Sam's mortgage programs, another mountain looms on the horizon.

A new Reagan administration budget proposal would raise or create "user fees" (mortgage insurance premium charges) on government-backed home loans and require that they be paid in cash at closing, instead of being financed as part of the mortgage. The proposal also would:

-Increase secondary mortgage market fees, which are passed on to the borrower over the life of the loan.

-Restrict Federal Housing Administration-insured loans to households with gross incomes of less than $40,000.

-Rescind the FHA's authority to insure loans on second homes and investor-owned properties that are not occupied by the owner.

Experts told "The Meyers Report" up to 200,000 Americans could be squeezed out of the home-buying or refinancing market by the proposed budget restrictions—the latest in a series of setbacks for the FHA and Veterans Administration lending programs.

So far, 1986 has not been a good year for Uncle Sam's housing programs. In late April, a bill had to be rushed through Congress to increase the limit on FHA-loan guarantees. Without the $17 billion increase, applications for government-insured home mortgages were halted because the agency had reached its $57.4 billion credit ceiling.

Earlier this year, a similar increase in Veterans Administration loan guarantees to $18.2 billion from $11.5 billion was rushed through Congress.

Now, lenders are shuddering about the new budget proposal that would raise the mortgage insurance premium, or user fee charge. The new charge on FHA loans would jump to five percent of the loan amount from three point eight percent. And, the fees would have to be paid up front. User fees on VA mortgages would rise to three point eight percent from one percent by fiscal 1989.

"FHA borrowers typically place down payments of three percent to five percent," said Van Price, president of Capital Mortgage Funding Corp.

"In effect, this would require home buyers to double their down payment—put an additional five percent into the property, which would not be equity. It would go right to the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development for the insurance premium," he said.

On a typical $50,000 FHA loan with five percent ($2,500) down, borrowers would have to come up with an additional $2,500 for mortgage insurance.

"The user fees are designed to enhance U.S. Treasury revenues and are nothing more than housing taxes on moderate-income home buyers," said Ronald F. Poe, president of the Mortgage Bankers Assn. (MBA) of America.

"The fees are contrary to the Congressional purpose of fostering homeownership and would have a devastating effect on FHA borrowers. They virtually would eliminate the low-down payment benefit that enables most FHA borrowers to finance their homes," Poe said.

David C. Smith, president of the National Assn. of Home Builders, predicted that "thousands of veterans would be bumped out of the housing market" if the user-fee hike is put into effect.

Poe estimated that the proposed $40,000 income cap on FHA borrowers would make ineligible one-third of those currently using the program.

In Illinois, Poe said the income cap would squeeze out 48 percent of the home buyers now eligible for an FHA loan. In California 46 percent of the borrowers now eligible wouldn't qualify, and 38 percent of those eligible in New York state would be forced out of the market.

Based upon housing costs in their state, FHA home buyers in Illinois would have to pay $4,400 in additional fees at closing under the administration's proposal, while veterans' closing costs would rise by $2,500.

In California, FHA buyers would pay $5,900 more, while VA-borrower fees would rise $3,700. Fee hikes in New York would be $3,900 for FHA borrowers and $2,200 for veterans.

The fees fail as revenue enhancers. "Since the FHA and secondary mortgage market programs, such as Fannie Mae, Ginnie Mae and Freddie Mac, make money for the U.S. Treasury, cutting them back actually will lower the federal government's net revenues," said Warren Lasko, executive vice-president of the MBA.

"Furthermore, limiting FHA loans to low-income families could increase losses to the insurance reserve fund because of foreclosures and may have a negative effect on the budget deficit," Lasko said.

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government analysts, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 16 years. Readers are invited to submit comments and questions for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers & Associates, Ltd., 20 W. Hubbard, Chicago, IL 60610.

A study by Chase Econometrics, an economic forecasting firm, indicates the user fees would increase the federal deficit.

"Imposition of the fees would raise mortgage rates, reduce housing starts and sales, reduce jobs and increase the deficit," said Lawrence Chimere, chief economist of the firm.

Assistance Is Available

J.R. Starkey, Internal Revenue Service Dist. director for northern Illinois, reminded taxpayers living in Lake and eastern McHenry Counties that walk-in assistance is available at the Mundelein IRS Office, located at 706 E. Hawley, Mondays only between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Telephone tax assistance will continue to be available weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Lake and McHenry County area residents should call 1-800-424-1040.

Starkey encouraged those taxpayers needing assistance to call during non-peak hours—early in the morning or late in the afternoon and during the latter part of the week.

GCHS Tabs Jahnke For Job

by STEVE PETERSON

Grayslake Community High School did not have to look very far to find its football coach for the 1986 season.

Athletic Director Harold Jahnke will take over the program this fall from Tom Wittum.

Supt. Griff Powell announced the GCHS Board of Education has approved the hiring of Jahnke as top football coach.

"I was pleasantly suprised with his background," Powell said of Jahnke.

Jahnke has football coaching experience at the high school level and playing experience at the college level.

Jahnke coached for 11 seasons at Luther South in Chicago, chalking up three league titles in the span.

Jahnke played defensive back at Cathrage College, where he was an all-conference pick.

Powell announced the high school plans to give Jahnke two assistants.

"We're going to make a commitment to all the sports we can," Powell said.

Wittum, who was 18-27

over five years, is expected to return to GCHS as a teacher.

The high school has yet to announce who the new hockey coach will be. Powell said that announcement will probably be made after he meets with parents of hockey players and the board's June 26 meeting.

Landing A Live One Is First Consideration

by BILL RADKE

Much has been written about getting out to fish, as well as taking some one along for company...preferably an infrequent or novice angler who needs help in experiencing the pleasure.

Let's assume you do go out and catch some nice keepers, from the boat or the banks. Now what happens? One of the first considerations after hooking a live one is to land it, boat or shore, as quickly and carefully as possible. The reason being, a catch is stronger and lives longer, if it has not fought its way to exhaustion.

In the boat, or on the bank, the determination is made to keep or release the fish. Keep is when it may become table fare or a wall hanger. Release is if it's too small, if you don't plan to use it, or if you hope someone else may enjoy catching it...when it gets bigger.

In landing it, remember to touch its skin as little as possible. Protective coating that rubs off in handling makes a released fish vulnerable to later skin infections.

I boat fished with a fine angler one time who habitually released most of his catch. His procedure was to lift the bass from the hook with one hand while holding the fish's lower lip between his thumb and forefinger of the other.

Then he'd raise it level with his mouth, pretend to kiss it from a distance and say, "Come back again when you get bigger." He'd then reach over the gunwale, place it gently into the water and watch it disappear. It was a very thoughtful and conservative approach to enjoying the outdoors. We kidded him about it, but respected him for it.

It's also important to keep fish alive and cool. Pan fishermen like holding boxes in their boats with circulating water. That's not always possible, however, and many anglers use regular stringers, onto which the catch is threaded or hooked. Warm surface water is where fish are least likely to survive, especially if the sun can hit them. Lower stringers and nets into cooler, deep water. Some fish may die before there is a chance to dress them. Don't throw them away, they may still be fine eating. We guide ourselves by checking the gills.

If they still show a good red color, there is no problem, but if they are white, cleaning and eating is not recommended...they could be harmful, as deterioration of fish flesh begins at around 40 F.

Almost without exception, we fillet everything. There are several reasons. First, it is less messy and can be done on the kitchen table or at the cooking area...no flying scales. It also eliminates the fear of choking on fishbones, because the meat has been cut away from them. Fishbones are a prime reason for many who say, "I don't like to eat fish." Filleting also eliminates fatty tissue of the stomach, head, sides and back, which can give the catch "the fishy taste."

Q: What putting method would be best for a beginner?

A: Whether you are just learning to play golf or have enjoyed this wonderful sport for many years, my advice would be the same. Remember, there are actually only two ways to putt, either with the arms and hands working as one unit (with little or no wrist motion), or with the wrists and hands (an obvious break or motion in the wrists). From experience I am convinced you will put more accurately a greater percentage of the time if you allow your arms and hands to work as one unit. As in the illustrations, you may choose the most comfortable bending angle at the waist. Your elbows may be pulled in close or widened out away from your body but do try to keep both arms bent to the same degree. You then have that pendulum motion with the shoulders, arms, hands, and club all moving in one smooth motion.

To Attend College

Athletic Director and Head Baseball Coach Bill Langston has announced that Kelly Bye has decided to attend Rockford College and play baseball. Bye, the son of Dan and Barbara Bye of Grayslake, was a two-year All-Northwest Suburban League selection at second base and served as team captain for Coach Jim Haas' Rams.

Coach Langston commented in making the announcement that, "Kelly is a sound, fundamental infielder with very good baseball instincts and seems hard-nosed enough to play our aggressive offensive style. We are very excited to have him."

The Regents posted a 20-20 record in 1986 and finished third in the Northern Illinois Intercollegiate Conference.

House On The Rock: A One-Of-A-Kind Place

Madison, Wis., the state capitol, became our headquarters for some nearby explorations of the unique and unusual. The House on the Rocks, 40 miles to the west of Hwy 23, Spring Green, turned out to be both, in unexpected proportions.

Casual comments in advance, such as "you'll never believe it," were accepted with a degree of smugness travel writers sometimes develop after visiting countless homes, hotels, museums and so forth. But, there is no "ho-hum" attitude about the House on the Rock.

Seeking to describe it is difficult, because it is tiny in spots, so intricate and so gigantic in concept as to make it a one-of-a-kind place. There never was nor will be another like it. Physically constructed in the beginning by Alex Jordan, a recluse-like genius, Deershelter Rock was his confirmed site selection for this special house.

It's situated on top of a 100,000-ton chimney rock, rising 450 feet above the floor of Wyoming Valley. Music figures strongly into the magnificent proportions of displays. They vary from ancient oriental to European and on to modern in a collector's blend of manmade art. These are spacefully placed in a natural environment. Rock contours are utilized in room design...not chipped away.

It is all too complex to describe, other than to promise a visit will be looked back upon as one of the memorable locations of any trip. John Korb, site manager, is himself a walking dictionary of facts and details of this complex presentation. Information is available by writing direct to House on the Rock, Spring Green, Wis., 53588, or a toll-free call to the Wisconsin Tourism Office at 1-800-ESCAPES.

How long has it been since the last trip on a stern wheeler? A new opportunity, just an hour away, comes into being on June 22 when the beautiful, newly constructed Island Queen river boat will be launched. Coronation of the Island Queen will occur Sunday, June 22, preceded by a parade beginning in Fox Lake. The public is invited to tour the vessel and view the new, enlarged King's Island Marina, which will be followed shortly by Andres on the Bay Restaurant. This is a second location for Andres' popular Richmond steak and fish specialties.

The Queen's Pistakee Lake stern wheel cruises will carry passengers and diners back into the romantic past as they mix shoreline and island scenery with the finest in cuisines, flavored with nostalgia. Individuals, families and groups will be welcomed on stern wheel trips for the balance of the summer. For information write Weeks End Resort, King's Island, Fox Lake, or call (312) JU7-2222.

One of our travel writing friends, Gordon Quarnstrom, editor for the Economist papers, received Mexico's Medal of Merit for his travel coverage of that country. The award is one of only three made this year. It was based on helping dispel unfounded rumors of danger; in depth reporting of the September earthquake; and his descriptions of the Mexican cultural heritage and travel opportunities.

Let us polish his halo a little more by saying, his travels are so extensive, we sometimes wonder how he finds time to write of them so well.

Park Booklet Offers Savings

To assist in planning vacations to one or more of the 337 national park sites this summer, the National Park Service and a major cereal brand is offering Americans a National Park Profile booklet filled with valuable national park resource information and $200 in travel savings certificates.

In addition, a National Park Enhancement Fund has been established to encourage the general public to directly support the national parks.

The 24-page, full-color booklet features a special message from National Park Service Director William Penn Mott, Jr.; information on things to know and places to go in particular park sites; and other national park resource information.

A five-panel fold out map pinpoints the location of each of the 337 national park units and its classification, including battlefields, parkways, preserves, recreation areas, monuments and memorials, performing arts centers, historic sites, and lakeshores and seashores. The booklet also contains saving certificates on rental cars, hotels, travel services, bus trips, film developing and outdoor equipment.

The National Park Profile booklet is offered in conjunction with an ambitious, grass-roots campaign, called the Post Natural Raisin Bran National Park Pledge, to generate funding for major trail improvement projects, and interpretive and educational programs in national parks. Chaired by entertainer and outdoor personality John Denver, the Post Natural Raisin Bran National Park Pledge is enlisting consumer support to generate up to $250,000 as seed money to launch a permanent National Park Enhancement Fund.

Managed by the non-profit National Park Foundation in Washington, D.C., the new fund has been set up to encourage public support for national parks. By offering additional monies for trail enhancement projects, and educational and visitor interpretive programs, the Enhancement Fund is addressing a vital need to ensure the continued quality of national park visits at a time when the National Park Service is faced with budget cutbacks and increased visits.

A portion of the $250,000 Post Natural Raisin Bran donation will be used to fund 10 trail improvement projects, executed by the Youth Conservation Corps through a summer-job program.

Americans can participate in the National Park Pledge through a Post Natural Raisin Bran proof-of-purchase redemption program. For every Post Natural Raisin Bran proof-of-purchase redeemed, 50 cents will be contributed to the National Park Enhancement Fund (up to $250,000). For three or more proofs-of-purchase, $1.50 will be donated and Americans will receive the National Park Profile booklet.

Individuals, organizations and corporations are encouraged to support the National Park System through direct, tax-deductible contributions to the National Park Enhancement Fund. Each contribution of $25 or more will be recognized with a certificate of appreciation.

To contribute to the National Park Enhancement Fund send a check or money order (no cash, please) made payable to the National Park Enhancement Fund, along with a name and mailing address to: The National Park Enhancement Fund, c/o The National Park Foundation, Dept. P, P.O. Box 57473, Washington, D.C. 20037.

To support the pledge and obtain a booklet send three proofs-of-purchase from Post Natural Raisin Bran, plus a name and mailing address to: General Foods Corporation, Post Natural Raisin Bran National Park Pledge, P.O. Box 4776, Kankakee, IL 60902.

Announce Lock-Up Program

The Great Lake County Lock-Up program has been announced by Sheriff Robert H. Babcox. "No, it's not another design for a jail," Babcox remarked.

Actually, the Great Lake County Lock Up is a self volunteer awareness and education program in conjunction with National Burglary Prevention Month (June), to remind homeowners not to make themselves vulnerable to crime, the sheriff said.

"Residents should exercise common sense and not make it easy for the opportunist burglar or thief," Babcox said.

"Lock it" is perhaps one of the best ways to prevent burglaries and theft, he said.

"Keep in mind the principles of the 4-D's," Babcox said, "which stand for deter, deny, delay and detect as a prevention plan."

These efforts will reduce the likelihood that your home or apartment will be burglarized, he added.

Also, one of the best alarm systems is a good neighbor, he said.

The "Lock it" program has been successfully throughout the country by law enforcement agencies to heighten public awareness in reducing crime.

Join a neighborhood watch group or contact the Crime Prevention Bureau at (312) 360-5922, Babcox concluded.

Returns Home

A 15-year-old Great Lakes girl sought by the Lake County SEARCH Unit has returned home safely, Sheriff Robert H. Babcox has announced.

The youth, Kimberly M. Ragin, was "homesick" according to the sheriff.

"Kimberly went to Chicago and returned to Waukegan whereas she was notified that her picture was in the newspaper," Babcox said.

"She then contacted a friend of the family who called the father to make arrangements to pick her up," he added.

"She might have still been on the run if not for the cooperation of the news media," the sheriff said.

Bell Mentioned For Miller Seat

Supervisor George Bell of Fremont Twp. is being urged to fill the vacancy on the Republican ballot in the November election created by the death of County Board Rep. Glenn B. Miller.

The post is for a representative from Dist. 6 covering Fremont, Wauconda, Ela and Cuba Twps.

Miller was renominated in the March primary. He suffered a fatal heart attack June 7 while driving to work near Wheeling.

Statutes provide for a meeting of GOP precinct committeemen to fill the vacancy within 60 days following the vacancy.

Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich, who won one of the two GOP nominations in March, is expected to be appointed an interim County Board member. The appointment is the responsibility of the County Board chairman.

Bell served two terms on the County Board, declining to seek reelection in 1978.

He established a reputation for integrity and fairness, and was hailed as one of the architects of the Lake County Forest Preserve Land acquisition plan.

He has been supervisor of Fremont since 1971. He is a long-time GOP committeeman. Bell was elected Republican chairman of Fremont following the March primary to succeed John Reindl.

Bell is a resident of Countryside, rural Mundelein.

Bell, 74, said that he was aware that friends and political associates are advancing his name for the vacancy.

"I haven't said no," he told a Lakeland Newspapers' reporter Saturday, "but I am interested, particularly because I'm concerned about having our township represented on the County Board."

"My age would be a factor, but I feel fine. I'm going to see what happens," he commented, adding that the township GOP chairman of Dist. 6 have not yet conferred on the appointment.

Bell noted that the statutes permit township supervisors serving in the dual capacity of County Board member.

Others mentioned for the vacancy include Reindl, a resident of rural Mundelein, who was defeated in the March Primary in a second bid for a County Board nomination, and Pat Wilson of Mundelein, who also was defeated for renomination.

Reindl and Wilson ran behind Miller and Hansen.

Reindl, who recently was reappointed chairman of the Lake County Zoning Board, reportedly still is keenly interested in serving on the County Board.

Party Chairman Bob Neal said Dist. 6 committeemen will be meeting Monday, June 23, at the Mundelein Village Hall to try and come up with a replacement on the ballot.

Neal is backing Wilson because "he is the most logical choice."

Political observers reported that others mentioned as possible candidates to fill the vacancy include Mayor Colin McRae of Mundelein and Village Clerk Venita McConnel of Wauconda, GOP chairman of Wauconda Twp. and an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for County Clerk in the March primary.

McConnel immediately took herself out of contention when contacted by this newspaper.

Declaring that she is supporting Wilson, McConnel added, "No, I'm not interested County Board politics. I'm a business person and my interest was in administration."

She pointed out that she now is doing consulting work for Chicago Medical School, North Chicago, "and having the time of my life."

Besides Bell and McConnel, the other township chairmen who will be directing the party meeting on selection include Jack Schneider, Ela, and Stevenson Mountsier, Cuba.

Hess Kicking Off Campaign In Grand Style June 27

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess, kicking off her reelection campaign in grand style, is holding a champagne reception fund-raiser on Friday, June 27, from 5:30 to 8 p.m., at the Lake Bluff home of David Decker.

Decker, a prominent Waukegan attorney, currently is president of the Illinois Trial Lawyers Assn.

The "stars" of Illinois Democratic politics have been invited to attend, including both Illinois' United States Senators Alan Dixon and Paul Simon, Gubernatorial candidate Adlai Stevenson and his Lt. Gov. running mate Michael Howlett, Comptroller Roland Burris, and Attorney General Neil Hartigan. Prominent local Democrats are expected to turn out in full force.

A silent Art and Wine Auction, to be conducted at the event, has brought donations from leading Democrats across the United States, according to Hess.

Senator Edward Kennedy has donated a 1980 Democratic convention address; Delaware Senator Joe Biden, an autographed poster; New Jersey Senator Bill Bradley, an autographed book; Senator Alan Dixon, who serves as Hess' honorary chairman, is donating an American flag which has flown over the Capitol.

Senator Paul Simon, in characteristic style, is donating a bow tie, while Senator John Glenn has also agreed to donate an item.

Local artists, politicians and friends of Linda Hess are donating many other exciting items to the auction. Others interested in donating can contact Karen Rydberg at (312) 356-7104.

Tickets for the gala event are $40 per guest and can be obtained by calling Elma Ellis at (312) 395-6692.

Museum Board Schedules Annual Meeting July 29

The Lake County Museum Assn. Board will hold its annual meeting on June 29, at 2 p.m. The meeting will be conducted at the Animal Warden office building located adjacent to the Lake County Museum, Lakewood Forest Preserve, Wauconda. To assist in interesting prospective members to join the Lake County Museum Assn., museum staff members will participate in a lecture and exhibit on the Edward Amet Collection (Amet was a pioneer in the motion picture industry) and Rebecca Goldberg, supervisor will overview museum and museum association accomplishments.

The Lake County Museum Assn. is a group of private citizens organized in 1971 as a non-profit organization to promote the establishment of the museum as a permanent display center for the publicly owned collection of historic objects. Becoming a member of the Lake County Museum Assn. will demonstrate support of Lake County's rich cultural heritage. Membership dues help provide financial support to the Lake County Museum.

Donald Strenger, president of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. stated, "The annual board meeting of the Lake County Museum Assn. is a good time for persons interested in the museum to consider joining this organization. The small, professional staff of the Lake County Assn. is in need of additional members. The program on Sunday will give insight into this worthwhile organization and benefits of membership."

The museum is located seven and one-half miles west of Mundelein on Rte. 176 in the Lakewood Forest Preserve. The museum is open daily including weekends from 1-4:30 p.m. Admission fees are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students and seniors; preschoolers and museum association members are free. Monday is a free day for all visitors.

"Sometimes stocks, bonds and mutual funds are your best investments..."

Steven Hardin, INVEST Registered Representative at Skokie Federal, helps customers round out their savings portfolio.

"No one can argue that CDs from a federally insured financial institution should be the foundation of any savings portfolio. But once you've built that foundation, it may be worthwhile to look for alternative investments with higher growth and income potential. Sometimes stocks, bonds and mutual funds are your best investments. But how do you know? Where can you go to invest in them?"

"Most people are surprised when I tell them they can purchase stocks, bonds or mutual funds through INVEST right here at Skokie Federal. Unlike discount brokers, at INVEST, we take the time to help you understand each investment opportunity so you can better build your investment portfolio. And you'll appreciate our fees on stocks and bonds which are less than those charged by full-service brokers.

"Through INVEST I've helped many savers round out their investment portfolios and become smarter investors. That makes me proud to be a part of the Skokie Federal team."

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK.

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

Everything To Know About Boats

HOW TO BUY A BOAT FOR A FAMILY AND A FISHERMAN

by Cliff Shelby

Yes, Virginia, you can buy a "fishing boat" that you can ski behind, but you can't really find a "ski boat" that you can successfully fish from. So what's a fishing-skiing-boating-camping-cruising-love-the-water outdoor family to do? Buy a good "Fish 'N Play" boat!

Forrest Wood, America's premier builder of quality bass boats, quickly acknowledges that "Fish 'N Play" twin-console models are our best selling boats. That's right! Despite top fishing pros all over the country using the tournament models, the Ranger Boat factory still produces more "family" boats than models designed strictly for professional fishermen. "But why?", you might ask. Let's look closer at these multi-purpose boats as a family investment.

A boat is a vehicle that takes us onto water, which is a hostile (but fun!) environment. Since we can exist only "on" the water and not long "in" the water, we should all be looking toward buying a quality product for our family use. Buying a cheap boat is like shopping for a cheap airplane, since both take us into an environment where we cannot long survive on our own. Nobody wants to fly in a "bargain" airplane, so why look for a "bargain" boat? What should you do? Let's look!

While a bright, shiny finish, free from little waves and wrinkles, is a quick check of quality, the real indication of craftsmanship (or the lack of it) is below deck and in the small details. You want the best in resale value so that the family won't lose money when it's time to sell or trade, but remember, lots of boats look good, bright and shiny, but just like cars, only certain manufacturer's products retain that real dollar value once they get off the sale lot, so we need to be able to compare the top sellers. Here's how to do it: Let's suppose you have narrowed the field down to a few quality "bass boat" builders and you are looking at their "Fish 'N Play" models. All look really great on the showroom floor... all slick and glittery, plush carpet, great upholstery and comfort galore for folks and fishing... what now? Start looking for details! Open the rear storage compartment...

the storage lockers... the livewell. Are all the lids reinforced so that a big man could walk on them? Are there sealing edges provided so that dry storage is really dry? Is everything finished off like a quality product. Check the grade of the carpet... are the pile fibers close and tight together? Can this deck really drain through the carpet when it has to? Are there ample drains provided in the boat floor? How good is the "finish" in areas such as the rear storage compartment, where the batteries, gas tanks and other essentials are located? How good is the aeration system for keeping your fish alive? (Compare this to Ranger's patented livewell system). Are there provisions for charging batteries from one central plug-in? What gauge wiring is used in the trolling motor circuits? It should be at least as heavy as six gauge wire.

The hull of your boat is the heart of your security. How your boat performs and how it handles the roughest that nature can dish out depends on the design of the hull you are riding on. Never trust your family, or yourself, to less than the best that the industry offers. Forrest Woods states, "Our exclusive patented hulls have earned their reputations on much of the nation's roughest waters. We build our boats to take the worst that might happen... we try to design for the rough stuff and know our hulls ride smooth and great in the normal water."

Safety should be your first consideration when buying a boat. U.S. Coast Guard regulations require that a boat should have sufficient foam flotation material within the hull to still float the boat even if it should fill with water. Ranger designers, who pioneered this flotation principle, recommend that you check a manufacturer's claims of flotation. See if there is verification of the flotation features by a recognized, independent testing agency. Properly providing adequate flotation material is costly, and many cheaper boats may not have sufficient in-hull material to make the boat safe. Check out this important feature before you buy.

A look at the manufacturer's warranty is important. There should also be a detailed Owner's Manual provided. The very best indication of how you will be treated after the sale, however, is the reputation of the manufacturer. Recent years have seen boat builders come and go. Mostly go. Those with the longest reputations have products (and customers) who have withstood the best test of all... the test of time. The top builders have their own unique designs, not just copies of someone else's models, and they back their products with their hard-earned reputations. A brand-name product is like money in the bank when it comes time to trade or sell.

Know the dealer that you are dealing with and his reputation for quality boat rigging and service. Be sure that his staff is knowledgeable about all the accessory equipment that they sell and install. The improper selection of a propeller can make a fine boat and engine combination run poorly. A knowledgeable dealer can solve such problems and will be your best ally in keeping your rig in top shape. Again, reputation is the best recommendation, so check out your dealer.

It is natural that many first-time boat buyers will start small and with cheaper models. Boats are products that deliver what you do (or do not!) pay for in terms of safety, performance, pride-of-ownership, and resale value. This also applies to the trailer that you purchase for your new rig. Don't skimp with a cheaply built trailer! Your new boat will still spend more time sitting on the trailer than it will in the water, even with lots of use, and a poorly fitted trailer can actually damage your hull by placing extreme pressure in the wrong places. Boat builders that manufacture trailers specifically for their various model boats have the best bargains in quality trailers. Ask your dealer to show you the differences.

The family that can decide on exactly what their boating needs are, and then proceed with safety and quality as the first consideration, is on their way toward the most economical and satisfying way to enjoy all the fun that America's great waterways afford.

Mosquitos Don't Bite

Would you believe it if someone told you that he had never received a single mosquito bite? How about if he said that you had never received a mosquito bite? Believe it.

Contrary to what you've heard for years, mosquitoes don't really bite. They penetrate their victims with a hollow, flexible snout composed of six parts. Four parts cut your skin, while the other two allow the mosquito to gorge on her meal.

The people who make Cutter Insect Repellent know more about mosquitoes—and repelling them—than just about anybody. Here are a few more facts about the outdoorsman's greatest enemy. — The mosquito is responsible for more deaths than all wars in human history combined.

— Only female mosquitoes attack. (Male mosquitoes are vegetarian, feeding off the nectar of flowers).

— Mosquitoes have been on this planet for over 200 million years. They can survive freezing temperatures and 100 plus degree

It's obvious we can't eliminate the mosquito, but we can protect ourselves from them.

Help Eliminate Risks

Outdoor people and water are a natural mix. But throw in a sudden dose of bad weather or an equipment failure and a fun day on the lake can turn into a nightmare for the uninformed and ill-prepared.

In most instances, prior planning can help to eliminate most of the risks of fishing and boating. Knowledgeable outdoorsmen check weather forecasts prior to making a trip. They continue to keep a watchful eye out for unexpected changes and allow enough time to reach a safe port before being caught in a storm. Careful boaters also insure that their engines, fuel systems, batteries, and all mechanical connections are in tip-top condition before going onto the water. However, accidents can occur and the boater caught in the worst of situations should know some moves that can better the chances of getting lives and equipment back home in good shape. Let's talk about what can be done if the worst should happen.

HANDLING YOUR BOAT IN ROUGH WATER. Wind and wave action can combine to turn even the most placid lake into a raging sea. Realize that proper handling of your boat in these circumstances is essential to reaching the dock without swamping and keep a cool head about you at all times. Your passengers should be wearing personal flotation devices and you should assign them positions in the boat that will balance the load and tell everyone to keep those positions and to remain calm. Determine the nearest sheltered area and plot your best course to reach that area. Often, the operator will have to take a "round and about" course in order to keep waves from breaking over the side or the stern, but a calm determination and a sure hand on the throttle will take you home.

Remember that speed is your enemy when fighting rough conditions, but you also do not want to be dead in the water. Don't try to take the waves head-on. Instead, take a course by which you can quarter up and down the waves into the wind. Apply the throttle while going up a wave and reduce the power when going down. As your boat reaches the top, let the crest of the wave simply roll out from under you. Well designed boats can take very rough waters under power and, while they will all pitch and roll a bit, the stability of the design will keep everyone and everything safe and upright.

Never turn so that a wave can strike the boat sideways or directly over the stern. Carefully observe the pattern and rhythm of the waves and make any down wind turn quickly in the trough between waves. IF YOUR BOAT SHOULD SWAMP. Stay with the boat. Never, under any circumstances, leave the boat and attempt to reach shore. The U.S. Coast Guard requirements for boat manufacturers specify that a boat shall be flotation equipped (within the hull) and that, if swamped, the boat should still float level in the water. Ranger boats, pioneers of the "level flotation" principle, will float high enough under normal conditions, that the occupants can comfortably remain seated in the swamped boat. If you are concerned that your boat may not meet the flotation requirements, you should call the Coast Guard Boating Safety Hotline to get recall information on boats and engines involved in defect notification and recall campaigns for the past five years. The Hotline number is 1-800-368-5647 and is in operation from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time from Monday through Friday. In the Washington, D.C. area, call (202) 472-2385.

Attempting to anchor in very rough water is a very tricky operation and should not be attempted except in the more dire of circumstances. If anchoring is necessary, use as long a rope as possible to insure that the anchor will hold and that the bow will not be constantly jerked beneath the surface.

Use the signal devices that you have on board to summon help. Whistles, horns and flares will all attract attention from other boaters to your plight and help will be on the way.

The worst situation is the one to keep your boat and equipment prepared for. The better your boat is maintained and equipped with the proper emergency gear, the better your chances of avoiding a mishap. Nothing beats preparation in advance. Safe boating regulations are only guidelines and good advice, and are worthless unless you make the effort yourself. It's up to you to make boating safe.

Make Camping Easier

Looking for a way to bring home comforts outdoors without sinking $50,000 or more into a fully-equipped motor home? Simple, according to Yamaha Outboards Information Service.

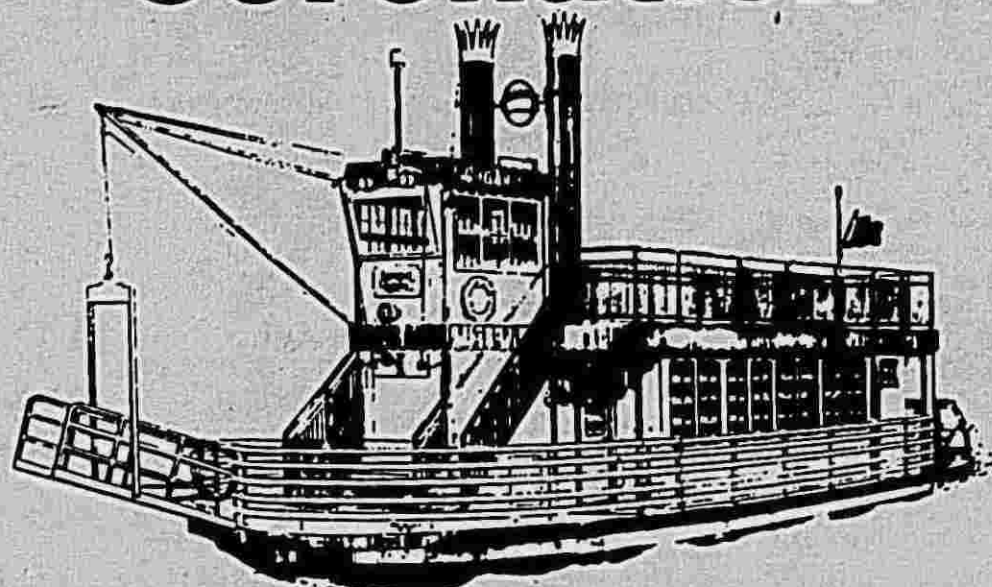

Do it with a portable generator, such as Yamaha's EF1000, which isn't much larger than a stereo tape deck. Such lightweight units bring AC brilliance to a back-country camp, slide-in camper or tent trailer, while also making it possible to enjoy such conveniences as an electric frying pan, toaster, and blender. Yes, even floor heaters, refrigerators, or a TV. The wattage size of the generator, which can range from 500 watts to 5,000, determines the appliances that can be used.

Portable generators have vastly improved during recent years. Weight has been reduced and units now are far quieter and compact. They also are economical, producing 4 or more hours of continual power on about one-half gallon of gas.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

IT WAS AN exciting weekend that could have been even more fun if the sun would have come out last Saturday. The RV, Boat, and Auto Show was a fine event that drew a lot of people, but the rainy Saturday really messed things up.

Still, the good days on Friday and Sunday brought out a lot of people and most of the dealers who were there made some sales.

That stage was something else. I think that was one of the nicest, most professional displays for a local event that I have ever seen. Compliments go to Ray Scarpelli, Jr., Larry Hanson, and all the other Chamber members who worked so hard to make this a success.

THE ROTARY SCHOLARSHIP car race had no weather problems. Paul Pavelsky, president of the Antioch Rotary, won the President's Challenge Race.

I must admit that I was a little nervous when the big gravel trucks started roaring around the tracks. If one of those things went out of control, that would be the end of it.

I can't say that car races are what I would like to spend every weekend watching, but this sure was an exciting change of pace. What's even better, it raised about $4,000 which will be used for scholarships for deserving students at Antioch High School next year.

I WAS SURPRISED that the Antioch Village Board had to ask businesses to contribute to the building of a pedestrian crosswalk over by the new Hardees. That is the sort of thing that is usually considered during planning hearings and is made a part of the agreement to allow development. In short, the village should have known that building this project would necessitate building a crosswalk and should have made it part of the agreement that the developer would pay for it.

It is not unusual for that to happen. In fact, most well-planned villages do require that the developer pay for the problems he creates.

Now don't get me wrong: Antioch has been a nice village for a long time because our officials have been careful about these sort of things. I hope that this oversight was just an aberration.

But with all the developments we have coming in, I also hope that this sort of oversight does not become a habit. When the developer does not pay for it, you and I do with our taxes.

Announce Pig Roast

Margaret and Bill Gniadek are announcing their third annual pig roast to be held Sunday, June 22, at the Lake Shangri-la Restaurant and Resort.

The event is open to the public, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tickets are $7 for adults and include beer and a delicious meal served between 2 and 5 p.m.

The resort is located on Hwy. V, one block south of 116th St. in Bristol. There will be games with prizes throughout the day and door prize at 9 p.m.

For more information call (414) 862-2979.

Honor Musician

Indus Gagnon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gagnon of Antioch, was inducted into Lambda Sigma Psi, the honor society for music, at Elmhurst College during the spring semester. Gagnon is a sophomore.

Outstanding Girl Athlete

John Wolf, representing the Antioch Lion's Club, presented a plaque honoring Shannon Gooch as the top female athlete at Antioch Community High School's annual sports award program. Gooch was also given an athletic scholarship by the Lion's Club.

Exchange Festival Headliners

The popular local show band, Grease, will be the main entertainment attraction at the Antioch Exchange Club's first annual Exchange Festival to be held on Saturday, June 21, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Social Center in Antioch. Grease will be one of several bands that will provide entertainment throughout the evening into the early morning hours. Proceeds from the event will be used to support Exchange Club projects in the community. See related story on Page 1A.

Miss Ill. Majorette 1986

Tara Christopoulos won the title of 1986's Miss Ill. Majorette at the state competition for park districts at Conant High School, Schaumburg, sponsored by the National Baton Twirling Assn. She will compete in the National Championships held at Notre Dame University in July. She is a student of Alyce Brownlee and a member of Alyce's All Stars. — Photo by Charles Johnston.

Plan Installation Dinner For AARP

Antioch area chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) held the election of officers at its June 10 meeting. Elected were: Sam Lombardo, president; Dolly Spiering, first vice-president; Urban Rafe, second vice-president; Clara Haling, secretary; and Bob Allgire, treasurer.

Bob Ullrich, state legislative committee, attended the biennial convention in Anaheim, Cal. and gave a brief report on new bills that are under consideration.

Carol Whitton and Bill

Brook were guest speakers. They talked about the progress being made at the historical museum. Vicky Bock, ways and means committee chairperson, presented Whitton with several artifacts for the museum, as gifts from AARP.

The installation dinner will be held on Tuesday, June 24, at 11:30 a.m. at Harbor Ridge Country Club in Antioch. The newly designed chapter flag will be presented at the dinner. Entertainment will be furnished by the All Star Band.

Hess Challenges Donna

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess, running for re-election, has challenged Dist. 4 Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler to meet publicly in their contest for Lake County Clerk.

Hess sent a letter to Litwiler proposing that the two candidates meet in a series of six public forums to be held throughout Lake County, one in each county board district.

Hess said in her challenge to Litwiler, "The race for county clerk this year will be an extremely important one since voters will decide if they wish to keep a check and balance system alive in the courthouse by retaining two-party government, by my re-election, or if they wish to return to the pre-1970 days of one party rule, by your election."

"Since you and I represent the two spectrums in the race, I believe the people have the right to know how we differ on the issues - especially regarding the integrity of our election system," Hess continued.

"Republicans, Democrats, and Independents alike want good government in Lake County, and we owe it to them to explain how we intend to provide this. I look forward to hearing from you on this most important matter," Hess said.

6 To Be On Ballot

Chief Judge, William D. Block, of the 19th Judicial Circuit, has announced there will be six candidates for associate judge on the ballot in the Nov. 4 general election. The candidates are:

Thomas F. Baker, James C. Franz, Victoria L. Martin, John G. Radosevich, Gerald C. Snyder Jr., and Albert L. Wysocki.

There are three vacancies for associate judge in the 19th Judicial Circuit.

Engineering studies have proven that a waterbed poses no problem to a properly constructed building. The crucial factor in building stress considerations is pounds per square foot. A waterbed weighs less per square foot than a TV set or a refrigerator.
